Burnett Buckenham, J.E. (The society of the War of 1812

Library + Museum of the Grand Lodge, Philadelphia, PA)

THE SOCIETY OF THE WAR OF 1812.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

J. E. BURNETT BUCKENHAM M. D., SECRETARY, CHESTNUT HILL, PHILA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27, 1922.

blacker: Same time ago Dr. Maren. Benjamin asked mals comme de ving.
Jon regarding the insignia of the Fring.
I think relation to the Bronze and the Even guryma, ara maller of fact of for will bet me know just what you wanted to lever, I wry by told you know, Jo Burnest Buchanden, Secretary.

Mu Harland Wood.
Curalis,
american homentes trans;

Dr. J. E. Burnet Buckenham

The Society of the War of 1812

Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of November 22nd, the two medals which we have at our Museum and about which we desired to learn more, are similar to the regular badge as shown on your letterhead but with the head of Jackson instead of 1812. One is in gold and the other in bronze. The ribbon is the same as the present ribbon but without the red edging. We have these labelled The Society of the War of 1812. Is this correct? Also, will you kindly inform us why there should be a gold medal and a bronze one.

Thanking you for information you may be able to give us, I am

Very truly yours,

Curator

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

TELEPHONE AUDUBON 2484

CABLE ADDRESS "NUMISMA" NEW YORK

MUSEUM OPEN 10 - 5. WEEK-DAYS 1 - 5. SUNDAYS

LIBRARY OPEN 10 - 5, WEEK-DAYS

THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY BROADWAY, BETWEEN 155TH AND 156TH STREETS NEW YORK

November 24th, 1922

Dr. J. E. Burnet Buckenham The Society of the War of 1812 Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of November 22nd, the two medals which we have at our Museum and about which we desired to learn more, are similar to the regular badge as shown on your letterhead but with the head of Jackson instead of 1812. One is in gold and the other in bronze. The ribbon is the same as the present ribbon but without the red edging. We have these labelled The Society of the War of 1812. Philadelphia Is this correct? Also, will you kindly inform us why there should be a gold medal and a bronze one.

Thanking you for information you may be able to give us, I am

Very truly yours,

HW/E

hov. 25, 1922,

Dear Sui: There was a bronze and a 14 kt gold insignia identical in design, differing only in the metal, which was the insignia of the Society prior to the adoption of the present 14 let. gold verigina, consisting of the another and other devices, associated with it, the ribbon probably differed in numor delail but as I have never seen the old rebbon I can't say definitely what it was. But if it carnets for on the insignia for have it is likely to be authertie at the B.B. +B. Co, makers are usually correct in such maller.

Je Burnels Buckersham, Lecy 1812,

Library and Museum

R.M. Grand Lodge F. & A.M. of Pennsylvania

COMMITTEE

HARMAN YERKES
CHAIRMAN
WALTER T. TAGGART
GEORGE P. DARROW
MAURICE J. BABB
ALFRED PERCIVAL SMITH
FREDERIC E. MANSON
WILLIAM DICK

J.E.BURNETT BUCKENHAM

LIBRARIAN AND CURATOR

May 7th, 1926.

Mr. Howland Wood, Curator, The American Mumismatic Society, Broadway between 155th & 156th St., New York City, N.Y.

My Dear Mr. Wood: -

I am enclosing a rubbing of a medal which I have and which no one so far consulted appears to recognize.

It is of coin gold. Someone has suggested that it was given to certain people as a souvenir at the Inauguration Ball of President Jackson when he began his second term.

If you can identify it, I will be grateful to you for so doing.

Very truly yours,

Muney Buckenham,

having god piter o cothers

J. E. Burnet Buckenham, Esq.
Masonic Temple
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Mr. Buckenham:

Replying to your letter of May 7th, I place no special significance on the Jackson token. It is a Mint production, and we find similar pieces of all the noted Presidents, from Washington to, at least, Garfield. As nearly all of them show about the same style of die-cutting, I am inclined to believe that most of them were made about the same time - say, some where in the fifties or sixties. The series on the whole is not rare and can be bought even today, I think, at the Mint for a small sum. Occasionally, one finds a specimen in gold, Although the Mint carries no stock of them in this metal, it will always make one on order. The Society has several specimens in gold, and we have here the identical piece, of which you send a rubbing, in gold, silver and becare.

Very truly yours,

Enc.

Curator